The board of supervisors met pur.

The board of supervisors met pur. it all fixed so as to attend to both. The distant wedding depended upon the wedding in town. At the hour appointed, the reverend gentleman was at his post, but the twain whose hearts were beating but with a single thought Comrades Harvey, Heckert, Monroe and Eaton attended the public installation of the officers of L. C. Woodman post, at Lawton, last Saturday night. They report having had a very enjoyable time, the only drawback being the fact that Comrade Harvey got pretty full—he ate three suppers.

were beating but with a single thought did not put in their appearance. In visible uneasiness he paced the floor, he pulled out his watch, glancing wistfully thereat. He disliked to trouble any of his brother ministers with such a ponderous task, being very considerate of their feelings. But the bridegroom tarried, and perspiration covered the preachers brow. A $5 bill ered the preachers brow. A $5 bill seemed in danger of escaping. An hour past the appointed time the loving couple came, the knot was hurriedly tied, and away went the minister like a eyclone, heedless of the mud, to join together the other couple, arriving just at the hour agreed upon. Yes, Eli, he got there!
